The question is whether the "Blue Portuguese Circular" which is an Executive paper & not published by authority may be allowed to use the Mysore Govt Coats of Arms - In the General Set up there is a very close imitation of the Mysore Govt Seal

1. Did the Mysore Govt obtain the previous sanction of the Govt of the State of Goa before they issued under their own seal?

2. Is not a Circular (unless) an Executive [illegible]

5. Is there any reply from the Portuguese Govt

4 Could not the Circulars be printed separately at the Govt Press & issued by them?

5 Is it certain objectionable for the Mysore Govt Coat of Arms & the Portuguese Coat of Arms & the Portuguese Coat of Arms not existing side by side —

7/11/95

Draft

Drafted letter dt 9/11/95

On communicating the above, the Inspector General of Police writes the following in support of the publication of the Circular by Messrs Goodbeich & Sons :-

1 That the work is being executed at a less cost than what the Superintendent has estimated for the same as shown in the following statement.

No of Copies to be struck off		No of pages in each copy of Circular.			Cost.
English	Canarese.		English	Canarese	Rs-A-P.
100	506.	As per Messrs Goodbeich & Sons' statement	13	16	656-0-0
		As per Supdt's statement	8	8	382-0-0
Taking 13 & 16 as the standard No of pages, the cost of all the copies Circulars would amount at the rate given by the Supdt here to					696-0-0

Now the difference between the cost of the two Agencies is ——— Rs. 40-0-0 which will be the extra expense to Govt to undergo, if the publication is to be made by them.

That- Messrs Gobbiah & sons started the in 1887 on their own account and ever since have sustained loss to a considerable extent and consequently they should be left to have the benefit that would accrue to them hereafter.

3. That- it will be a loss to Govt. if the publication is undertaken by them, as the copies of Circulars which is now being imprinted in every respect, is likely to be increased in size also.

4. That matter in English for the Circulars is supplied by the I. G. of Police and that- the Canarese translation of the same is undertaken by Messrs Gobbiah & sons at- their own expense.

Dangerous

(As majority of the persons who are supplied with the Circulars are Chinese knowing men, it is a question for consideration, what steps the I. G. has taken to see that the translation is correctly published by Messrs. Goodrich & Sons. The Inspector General is, however, silent on this point.)

Police Fortnightly Circular (12)

In 1887, Government Sanctioned the Supply of Certain Copies of the Mysore Fortnightly Police Circular to the Deputy Commissioners.

704-5 dated 4th March 1887
036-7 dated 18th March 1887.

In 1892, the Inspector General of Police stating that the Fortnightly Circular was supplied only to the Head Stations at Rs 1-8-- per copy and that T. B. Soobbiah, proprietor, agreed to supply Canarese copies to the Substations at 1 Rs per copy, requested that, in consideration of the many advantages that might be gained by sending the Circulars to the Substations, the Government might Sanction Canarese Copies to be supplied to all the Substations in the Province.

692/82 dated 8th Sep 1892

The Government approved of the Inspector General's recommendation and Sanctioned the purchase of 100 English copies and 556 Canarese copies at a total cost of Rs 656.

1152-3/581-92 of 27/12/1892.

In October the Inspector General was requested to explain

Why the Police Circular which was a private paper was allowed to bear the Empire Royal Coat of arms. Mr Meldrum Roe replied that the Police Circular was no more a private paper than the Empire Gazette would be if printed by a private firm and that if the Government thought it wrong to issue the Circular with the Empire Coat of arms, he would ask the printers to go back to the British Coat of arms which they were using.

Messrs Loobiah and Sons also stated that the Circulars was started at the request of Mr Ricketts, that it is purely a Service paper maintained at Government Cost, and that they were not authorised to print any advertisement or other matter which was not passed by the Inspector General of Police was informed that it was objectionable to use the Mysore Coat of arms on the Circular and was requested to obtain information on certain points relating to the utility of the Circular and the expediency of publishing it at the Govt Press Office. The Inspector Genl supplying the required information, stated that he had no objection to have the Circular printed and issued at the Govt Press:

On January 1893, Mr Meldrum Roe

11612 / 24 35-92 of 10/1/1893.

2209 / 337 of 4/2/1893

Govt thereupon ordered the publication of the Circular to continue and called upon the Superintendent, Govt Press to report whether the Circular can be printed with the Mysore Gazette as a separate part and if so at what cost.

5284-5 / 233-92 of 20/9/1893.

The Superintendent, Govt Press states in reply that the Circular can be printed and issued as an additional part of the Mysore Gazette at very slight expense to Government and that, if spare copies are required it will cost a small sum extra for paper. The amount of which cannot be estimated in the absence of matter to be published.

KR. 10793 Submitted with a draft to Supdt. Govt Press asking for further information as to the cost of printing the Police Circular.

MRK
7/10/93

The Supdt. in reply, states that the actual cost to Govt in printing 100 English & 506 Canarese copies of the Police Fortnightly Circular, — 8 pages each — will be Rs 16 for each issue and will amount to Rs 824 per year. The arrangement with Messrs Subbiah and Son costs Rs 656 per annum. Submitted for orders.

Unless I am much mistaken the Blue Fox mystery case: was started as a private hoax and regarded as such and soon takes a number of days just as it takes any other publication-it is useful- It cannot be regarded as a fox publication or even an authentic publication in the sense that any body will be justified in acting under any order we may be limited in it simply because it is limited in it though not joined in the usual course in w Govt orders are joined - It is I think not apparent from any newspaper We may publish all the papers placed by Govt at the "disposal of the Press" - I know that a mischievous disorderly meeting was attended by several peaceable behaved men because the Police by a notice We had on it somethis like a Royal Coat of arms - Under such circs it strikes me that the Police Govt - might may not be allowed to wear the Royal Govt Coat of arms - Yours sincerely

SIR,

With reference to your docket C.V. [illegible] G 2435-92 of the 10th ultimo, I have the honor to state that the previous sanction of the Government does not appear to have been obtained for the publication of the Fortnightly Circular "under the authority of the Inspector General of Police."

3. With regard to the 3rd query, I may that I consider the publication of the Fortnightly Circular necessary in the interests of efficient Police administration, as it is the means of giving informa to the Police in outlying Talukes regarding the occurrence of Crimes, loss of property, escape of offenders and the like.

The following are among the items published in the Circular.-

(1) Descriptive Rolls of escaped offenders.

(2) Rewards and promotions given to Police officers for meritorious services rendered.

(3) Appointments, transfers and punishments of Inspectors and leave granted to them.

(4) Notices offering rewards for the capture of escaped offenders and the recovery of stolen property.

(5) Important extracts from the Madras Police weekly Circular.

Judgments of the Chief Court in certain Criminal cases.

All important circulars issued from this office for the guidance of the Police.

Rewards given to private individuals in cases of good service done in the capture of criminals or prevention of crimes and for plucky conduct in putting down fires, rescuing drowning persons &c.

Circular issued with regularity, I have no objection to the same being done, but I think there will be no saving in point of cost and there may be difficulties in the Government Press undertaking the work. The present arrangement has worked very well so far and the Government in proceedings No. 11252-3 / 95-81-92 dated 11th December 1892, have quite recently sanctioned an increased circulation of the journal with a view to extend its sphere of usefulness.—

SIR,

With reference to your docket No. 10204 J.F. 233-92 dated 30th December 1893, 5th January 1894, I have the honor to state that the Police Fortnightly Circular consists on an average of 13 pages of English and 16 pages of Kanarese, and messrs Subbiah and Sons are now being paid Rs 656 per annum for 100 copies of the former and 506 of the latter, including cost of paper &c. From docket No. 442 of 17th October 1893 of the Superintendent, Government Press, received with your docket under reply, it would appear that the actual cost to Government for printing the same number of copies of 8 pages each of English and Kanarese will amount to Rs 384 per year. The work involved in printing the Circular being nearly double that estimated for by the Superintendent of the Government Press, the charges made by Messrs Subbiah and Sons are cheaper than what it would cost the Government Press. The Circular is now being improved in all respects and it may fairly be estimated that in the future, it will increase in size also; so that it will be a loss to Government to undertake the printing of it.

The Circular of the Fort Night should be 8 pages of Cr

2. I may add that Messrs Subbiah and Sons started the Circular in 1887 on their own account and have during a series of years maintained it at a loss to themselves. They represent that the Circular is just now beginning to pay its way and and that a withdrawal of the job by the Government will result in heavy loss to them. They are only supplied with the English portion of the circular. They translate it into Kanarese for which no separate payment is made.

3. Under the above circumstances and considering that Messrs Subbiah and sons have been very punctual and careful in the publication of the circular, I am of opinion that the present arrangement in regard to the publication may continue.
